FoxMind

The FoxMind team is proud to present the 2020 catalog!

We have added many new titles to our ever growing catalog of toys and games that offer mind stimulating fun and help develop reasoning skills, spatial logic and other skills associated with STEM (science, technology, engineering, and math) as well as verbal expression, dexterity, and healthy social interaction.

FoxMind had been nominated and has won, over the years, numerous international awards for its educational, family and strategy games. These awards include Mensa Awards, Game of the Year awards, Toy of the Year Awards and many more.

We are grateful to the ever-growing base of retailers, consumers, teachers and educators who provide us with our ultimate raison d'être, to develop and produce toys and games that offer Smarter Fun!

Should you want to learn more about our line or simply wish to communicate with us, the foxes here would love to hear from you through our website, Facebook, or Instagram.

In the meantime, keep on playing!

FAMILY GAMES

Fast-paced and lots of action!

A game of rapid visual recognition!

Perfect for game nights with family & friends!

Same classic game, now with a fresh new look and available in 3 vibrant colors! Purple, Yellow & Teal

The object of the game is to be the player who, by thinking ahead, forces their opponent to press down the last bubble. On a player's turn, they select a row and press down any number of bubbles on that row. The opponent then presses down any number of unpressed bubbles in a row of their choice. The player left to press the last bubble on the board loses the round. Once a match is over, simply flip the board to start a new round. Last One Lost is compact and has no loose or noise-making pieces, making it great for playing in a car, bus, or plane, at a restaurant, or at school. It's also water resistant, so you can play it while camping or at the beach!

In order to keep the family group together and have a safe trip, the three Matryoshka figures have to be moved across the board and nested one into another to be combined into one again. This is not so easy if there is nothing to hold on to...

After celebrating into the wee hours of the night, the monsters meet for a casual brunch, but they're all out of wits so early in the morning. How are Franky and his pal Werewolf supposed to chow down on their favourite bat burger, when Witch Wizzy and Medusa are chattering back and forth across the table? The monsters need help.

But who can help them organize themselves? Don't worry: whoever pays close attention to the instructions will be able to safely navigate through all the chaos.

The toucans are all sitting on one side of the scales. But where can the newcomers land, so that the scales are balanced? Combine smartly and balance well to find the correct solution!

In this fast and colorful game of visual perception players slide rows or columns of balls in an effort to align together two or more balls of the same color. The balls that were aligned are collected and count towards the player's score. Can you identify the move that will allow you to collect the most balls?

how to play

On their turn, each player selects a line of balls (horizontal or vertical) and pushes it in a single direction all the way to the edge of the game board, regrouping all the balls from the line in the process.

The move is valid when at least two balls of the same color are adjacent (horizontally or vertically). The player then collects all balls of the same color that are adjacent to each other and places them in their tray.

Players count the points based on the balls collected in their trays. For every 3 balls of the same color collected, a player gets 1 point. The player with most points is the winner.

INHABIT THE EARTH

Inhabit the Earth is a race game played on six continent boards. Players create their own menagerie of up to six creatures, each of which is represented by up to six cards, by using cards to introduce, multiply, evolve, and adapt their creatures. Each of the 162 unique cards identifies a creature's class, a continent and terrain that the creature inhabits, and a special or scoring ability.

Each class of creature is also represented by a counter, and the cards are also used to trigger the movement of the counters along the trails on the boards and by migrating, from one board to another. Breeding, achieved by flipping over a creature's counter, generates new cards. Movement facilitates further breeding and the chance to secure tokens for additional icons and point scoring.
